The Kingfish Thrusts at Work Relief Wages, To Continue Farley Fight

Louisiana's Militant Senator Takes Floor in a Filibuster to Smash Administration Plans for Debate on Big Measure.

WAS NEGLECTED

Huey Sarcastically Tells Senate He Was "Neglected" by Administration's Switch of Voters.

Washington, March 9 (P)—Beat en back in his attempt to get the Senate to investigate Postmaster General Farley, Huey P. Long concentrated today on a drive to smash the Roosevelt administration's plans on work relief wages.

He also said he would continue his fight on Farley despite the Senate post office committee's action yesterday in disapproving his resolution for the inquiry.

By taking the floor in a filibuster in which he tossed more criticism at the administration and Hugh S. Johnson, the Louisiana Senator already had helped to postpone the debate on the $4,880,000,000 work and relief bill. It was to have come up yesterday but Long delayed it until next week.

Some backers of the McCarran prevailing wage movement were hoping that a radio speech Father Charles E. Coughlin will make Monday night would strengthen its Senate support. The Detroit priest is lined up with the opposition to the administration's plan to pay "security wages" which officials have estimated at $50 a month.

Next week, Senator Long will renew his fight for the McCarran plan. He said yesterday he was "told" the administration was trying to "switch some votes" by calling some Senators and telling them their states would get $150,000,000 out of the bill.

Sarcastically, Long said he was resentful because he was neglected.

"Why didn't they call on me?" he shouted. "I might be open to a bargain. I was given no chance and I might do it for less."

The committee which had considered Long's charges against Farley for several days reported that the Senator "had not produced facts or evidence constituting a proper case for investigation by the Senate."

Long said he would take the floor against Farley again Monday. In an attempt to have the Senate upset the committee report.

"The Senate wasted time in sending my resolution to the post office committee," he said. "It should have sent it to Farley."

The committee reported unanimously that Long had not produced facts or evidence and a majority recommended that the proposed inquiry should not be held. Four Republicans and one Progressive filed two separate minority reports on the latter point. They favored a full investigation because of what was termed a suspicion created in the public mind.

The dissenters were Senators La Follette (P-Wis.), Gibson (R-Vt.), Schall (R-Minn.), Frazier (R-ND) and Barnour (R-N.J.).

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) read to the Senate the committee report branding the Long charge as "rude and indefinite hearsay and rumor."

Bomb Sender Known.

Waterbury, Conn., March 9 (P)—Postal officials indicated today that they knew the identity of the person responsible for mailing an imitation bomb to United States Senator Long.

The "time bomb" in reality nothing more than an alarm clock attached to wires and foil covered cylinders without any explosive substance included, was discovered yesterday by superintendent of mails Charles H. Platt. An investigation was begun at once, and the arrival of a postal inspector from Boston, Mass., was awaited by local postal authorities who would not say if the incident would be regarded as a joke or a serious fight with possible prosecution. Until the inspection service examines the situation, it is not known, Waterbury post office official said, whether the postal laws have been violated.

Republican Card Party.

The Downtown Republican Club will hold a card party in Brastman's Hall, corner of Ann and Meadow street Friday evening, March 13.

Temperature Touches Close to Zero Mark

That Old Man Winter has not left Kingston was shown by the cold weather of Friday which followed the 3-inch snowfall of Thursday, and the cold weather continued to grip the city during the night. The coldest recorded was at 6:30 o'clock this morning when 4 degrees above zero was registered on the recording thermometer at the city hall. At midnight the temperature was 15 degrees above zero.

The weather gradually grew warmer this morning as the sun mounted higher in the heavens, and shortly before noon considerable snow had accumulated from the melting snow.

Catskill High School Burns, Loss Is $75,000

Catskill, N. Y., March 9 (P)—The Catskill High School, a rambling brick and wood structure built in 1868, was destroyed by fire early today with a loss estimated by school officials at $75,000.

The blaze, starting shortly before midnight in the boiler room, swept out of control within an hour as the flames raced through the oiled corridors and stairways. Freezing weather hampered firemen from Catskill, Athens and Leeds.

Addison P. Johnes, president of the board of trustees, said the loss was covered by insurance but the town probably would have to hire a building to establish a temporary school. About 200 pupils were registered in the high school.

Veterans' Relief Bill Called Racket By Its Opponents

Public Hearing on Bill Now in State Legislature to be Held Tuesday in Albany—Bill Calls for Appointment of Welfare Board of War Veterans Who Have Control of Spending Money.

There are several angles to the Field-Ostertag bill now in the legislature at Albany and on which a public hearing will be held in Albany on Tuesday, that are of interest to the taxpayers. The measure was heartily approved by John Dwight Sullivan, state commander of the American Legion, in an address at Saugerties Friday night.

The main point raised by those who strenuously object to the bill is that it will place the spending of relief funds in the hands of those who have had no experience along those lines, and that the taxpayers of the city who contribute to the relief are called upon to appropriate whatever sum the committee deems needed. There is no check placed on both sides of the aisle.

Los Angeles in Experiments.

Lakehurst, N. J., March 9 (P)—The dirigible Los Angeles, sole survivor of the United States' lighter-than-air fleet, will be tied up to the naval air station's mooring mast today to enable experts to compile varied data during a months-long experiment. The time of the removal of the ship from its hangar depends on weather conditions but officers expected the task would be completed around sunset. Officers were uncertain of the length of the experiment, but said the dirigible may be kept moored to the mast for three or four months. The objective is to determine how the old Los Angeles—as well as other dirigibles in the future, if more are built—stands up under constantly-changing weather conditions.

Fiermonte Named.

Los Angeles, March 9 (P)—The name of Enzo Fiermonte, pugilist-husband of Mrs. Madeline Force-Astor Dick Fiermonte, has been injected into the child-custody suit between Adela Rogers St. John Hyland, writer, and her divorced husband, Richard Hyland. Hyland, former Stanford football star, is seeking custody of the couple's six-year-old son, Richard Roger Hyland, and charged Mrs. Hyland with associating with Fiermonte. Mrs. Hyland seeks to take the boy to New York. The case will be resumed in court here Monday.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, March 9 (P)—The total of the treasury on March 7 was:

Receipts, $18,905,223.12; expenditures, $20,048,661.04; net balance, $2,143,392.01; customs receipts for the month, $4,374,325.94. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,355,391,847.51; expenditures, $4,661,480,421.10 (including $2,417,611,621.28 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $2,363,088,173.67; gold assets, $8,545,829,373.92.

There Are 1,971 Dogs.

The recent police census showed that there were 1,971 dogs owned in Kingston, the largest number recorded since the inauguration of the annual census a number of years ago. Dog owners were due the first of the year, but a number of dog owners have neglected to obtain the necessary license as yet. Licenses may be obtained at the city clerk's office.

Jean Marlowe Needs Lawyer.

Los Angeles, March 9 (P)—Jean Marlowe, platinum blonde screen siren, today completed service in her divorce action against Hal Rosson, film cameraman, and the case probably will be called for trial next Monday.

Those appointed under the terms of the bill will know how much they want of the city's funds.

All the municipalities do is appropriate the funds; the commission sees to its spending, and are not accountable to any constituted financial authority as to how they shall spend it.

Constitutional Rights Fully 6,000 People Now Suspended In Cuba In Being Cared For Here Effort To End Strike By Relief Board in City

Cabinet and Council of State Suspend National Bill of Rights in Joint Session at Presidential Palace.

MILITARY GOVERNOR

Equivalent of Martial Law Existent When Pedraza is Named in Charge of Civil Powers.

Havana, March 9 (P)—Constitutional rights were suspended in Cuba today after a night punctuated by shots and bombings.

Grinly determined to break the strike which has disorganized the nation's affairs, the cabinet and council of state suspended the national constitution in a joint special session at the presidential palace.

The joint body named Jose Pedroza military governor of Havana Province. This was considered the equivalent of martial law inasmuch as Pedraza, whose rank is that of a lieutenant colonel in the army, will take over powers now in the hands of the civil authorities. Pedraza, now chief of the national police, was one of the six sergeants who with Fulgencio Batista overthrew the Despedos government September 4, 1933.

An eight point program was adopted by the joint body as a substitute for the constitution. It was not made public.

The action puts the entire government back on a revolutionary instead of a constitutional basis. A statement said among other things "all codes and laws of procedure and special laws promulgated to date will be respected insofar as they are not opposed to this decision." Suspension of the constitution will continue until a new agreement is adopted by the cabinet and council of state. The government is determined to suspend the constitution while the state of the strike and the seditions and revolutionary propaganda continues with the purpose of altering the public order. This action shall not indicate the reestablishment of previous constitutions or states.

As the government officials were meeting frequent bombings and shootings echoed in the Vedado residential section several miles from the center of Havana. Around midnight firing broke out in the Cuatro Caminos section bordering the business district.

Col. Fulgencio Batista, army chief, attested to the loyalty of Cuba's military. He declared any idea that the army might be at the disposal of the revolutionists could be dismissed.

He asserted it was the government's firm determination to break the strike and that "the armed forces will back the government" in that purpose.

The cabinet authorized the granting of provisional licenses to individual citizens to carry arms, in order to give protection to persons filling the strikers' places.

New York, March 9 (P)—The man in the case was "Prince Michael Romanoff" and that, the jury foreman has disclosed, is why Mrs. Wilma E. Gould holds a $25,000 verdict for conspiracy damages.

Strange Waters Puzzle

Fish From Caribbean

Atlantic City, N. J.—Slightly bewildered in the strange waters, a unique fish—peristedion finiatum—whose habitat is in the Caribbean sea, was caught off shore with little trouble.

Carroll B. Atkinson, a local ichthyologist, identified the fish. It had a weird appearance, seemingly to represent a cross between a modern armored tank and fabled Chinese dragon. When it was captured the fish was colored blood red, but gradually lost its brilliant hues.

THE RESERVOIR ROAD

With the introduction of a bill in the State Legislature by Assemblyman J. Edward Conway calling for a change in that portion of the road
passing the Ashokan Reservoir, which now is maintained by New York city to be under the maintenance of the State Highway Department, considerable enthusiasm has been aroused in Kingston among the businessmen, who hope for passage of the measure as an aid to the development of the Catskill Mountain section.

The measure is not a party project.
In the strict sense of the word, it having been introduced by a Republican Assemblyman but having the support of assemblymen of the opposite political faith from New York city.

With the possible exception of Robert Browning of West Hurley, who was adverse to any change from the present status during his campaign for assemblyman at the last election, public opinion seems to favor the bill.

The bill, which would make the road a state highway, has been attracting signers to number of petitions, there being in the neighborhood of 2,000 signatures at present.
Many of these signers are persons who use the present road, which is admittedly in poor condition, and a large number of them are persons who make up the population in sections to be benefited by the provisions of the bill.

Kingston will benefit by the proposed bill in having a first class highway into the heart of the resort country. The present road is in poor condition and has been for some time.
There is no indication that needed improvements will be made in the near future. With the road a state highway it is to be expected that improvements will come and that more tourist and resort trade will be attracted to that section. The boarding housekeepers in that section will benefit by the improvements; the Kingston merchants will benefit by increased trade. In fact it is difficult to see just where such a change is undesirable.

Figures show that with the improvement in roads to other resort sections the traffic increased in those sections, meanwhile dwindling in the Catskill region affected by the present road. If the bill is passed and the state improves the highway it is reasonable to assume that all will benefit. One way of doing it is by signing the petition and adding weight to the measure when it comes time for a final decision.

JUSTICE HOLMES.

There has probably never been in American history so beloved a judge
as Oliver Wendell Holmes.

He began life with the name and heritage of one of America's most revered poets and philosophers. The elder Holmes was a big man in a group of big men. But it is no disparagement to his memory to suggest the son was greater. Beginning modestly and remaining modest to the end, he grew in stature until the day of his death at the ripe age of 94.

Part of the national bereavement
is the breaking of this unique link with a memorable past. With his father, Justice Holmes spanned the years from the administration of Thomas Jefferson, third President in our history, to the thirty-second.
The elder Holmes was a friend of John Adams, Washington's successor;
the younger was a friend of Franklin Roosevelt, and doubtless had numbered future Presidents among his friends. With his passing somewhat, our national youth seems farther away, our country seems older.

addresses suggest this, though they dealt almost wholly with the supposedly dry, severe theme of law.
He pursued "one clear course" to the end. He made law luminous.
He made courts human. He kept his youthful vision, his open mind, his liberal spirit. His wise liberalism spread through half a century of legal teaching and judging. The Supreme Court of the United States
provided a great forum for his ideals.
He, as much perhaps as any man,
has kept the United States Constitution up to the free spirit of its founders and saved it from hardening arteries that might crack under strain.

CRIME TAX

The heaviest tax the country pays is the one levied by crime. Directly and indirectly, it comes to the grand total of $13,687,500,000 a year, according to an article in the Chicago Herald Examiner. That's more than three times what the national government normally spends in a year.
It is also 11-1/2 times what those foreign governments owe us on their war debts.

If we could wipe out crime over night, it wouldn't matter quite so much about some of the other big items of national expense, because we'd have saved the money to pay for them, with something left over.
Certain types of criminal are being pursued effectively by the law, but their arrest and imprisonment are only small beginnings in the cleanup that is urgently needed.

CURRENT NATIONAL DEBT.

The government debt now amounts to $215 for every man, woman and child in the country. It is equivalent to $2,150 for every taxpayer. That is a good deal, though less than it was at the peak of the war debt.

There is a way to make that debt
look less mountainous. Economists say the total wealth of the country is now $300,000,000,000. The debt is less than 10 per cent of that. We may yet be able to live it down or get it paid off.

BONE INFLAMMATION

One of the distressing ailments of childhood and young adults is osteomyelitis—an inflammation of the inner or spongy part of a bone.
The bones most commonly affected are the bones of the leg and the bones of the spine.

Sometimes a slight injury may seem to be the cause but it is agreed that it is some infection in the patient himself that is really the underlying cause. Exposure and overwork may aggravate the condition.

The symptoms usually begin with a chill, soon followed by severe pain in the affected part. Some cases have very few symptoms and recover in a short time, while others have pus formation and bulging due to abscess formation.

Treatment usually consists of opening the abscess and draining out the pus and later the removal of dead pieces of bone. When the patient's life is threatened, the removal of the entire bone or amputation is done.

It is very gratifying therefore to learn of a new method of treating osteomyelitis, simple and effective,
that is giving very satisfactory results.

This treatment by Dr. W. Lohr
Berlin consists in opening the bone, cleaning out the pus, filling the wound with cod liver oil, and applying a plaster cast. In the next few days an emulsion of pus and cod liver oil comes away from the wound.

Of the 24 cases, 6 were too far advanced when the treatment began but the other 18 were cured. During the treatment these patients were free from pain and had no complications whatever.

Dr. Lohr therefore believes that by the use of the cod liver oil a high percentage of acute or recent cases of osteomyelitis can be definitely cured and thus prevented from passing into the chronic stage—a long drawn out, distressing condition.

And even in old or chronic cases
where there were enormous cavities
from which large pieces of dead bone were first removed, filling the wound with cod liver oil gave excellent results. Of 25 patients with chronic osteomyelitis, 22 were completely cured and left the hospital with no fistulas crusting or open sores.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

March 9, 1915.—Mrs. Helen M.
Hibbard died at her home on Green
street.

Jeremiah Houghaling died at his home in Fort Eben.

C. E. Womble became manager of G. A. Hart & Company on Wall street.

March 9, 1915.—Steamer Touch-apple made first trip of season here. She was still considerable in Hudson river off Kingston.

Supreme Court Justice James V.
Coffey of Troy held his first session of winter term court, and was welcomed by members of the bar.

Burglars visited ten places here
between Forest Avenue and Hillside avenue, robbing about $22 in money and some canned goods and household articles.

What we Americans waste in gambling would almost pay our national relief bill. Still, if we didn't do that, the whole world would probably be on the relief.

Saturday Social Review

At the meeting of the Kingston Women's College Club to be held Tuesday evening, March 12, there will be an open panel forum arranged by Mrs. Rose K. Witter. The subject chosen for discussion is "Women of the World Today" and various aspects of the topic will be presented by Miss Ethel M. Hull, Mrs. William Hasbrouck, Miss Mae Quimby, Mrs. Ida K. Sherman and Miss Agnes Scott Smith.

The third of the regular series of winter lectures to be given under the auspices of the Young Married Women's Club which was scheduled for this coming Thursday afternoon has been postponed until the following week, March 21. At this time Mrs. Laura Maples McMullen will give an interpretation of "World Events of the Hour". Mrs. McMullen, who is now on a lecture tour through the middle western states, is well known in this city having been the guest speaker at an open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Musical Society of Kingston will hold its March meeting next Wednesday evening at the home of the Misses Jane and Ethel Mauterstock, 103 Hone street. Miss Ethel Mauterstock, assisted by Miss Agatha Flick has arranged a program of American Folk Music which will include both instrumental and vocal selections. The nominating committee will submit a slate of officers for the ensuing year.

Saturday afternoon, March 16, Mrs. Wesley D. Hale of 257 Broadway will be hostess to a St. Patrick's tea and food sale sponsored by the Deers Class of Trinity M. E. Church. All sorts of home made baked goods can be secured at this time. Those assisting Mrs. Hale in arranging this function are Mrs. Lester Finley, Miss Ethel Mauterstock and Miss Isabelle Thompson.

The Rev. Frank B. Seeley, D. D., pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, addressed the Business Girls Club at their regular weekly supper meeting Wednesday. Since it was Ash Wednesday Dr. Seeley gave a talk appropriate to the Lenten season.

This coming week the members of the club will hold an evening of open discussion following the supper.

The Missionary Society of the Ronduit Presbyterian Church met on Wednesday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Irving W. Scott, 38 West Chester street. Papers were read by Miss Mary McCullough and Mrs. Mary Comstock on "Orientals in Hawaii". As this was the annual meeting, officers for the coming year were also elected at this time: President, Mrs. Irving W. Saturday, April 6, has been set as the date for the regular spring meeting of the Schoolwomen's Club of the Hudson Valley which is to be held this time at Middletown. Since it has been customary in past years for this club to meet the second Saturday in the month this change in date to the first Saturday in April should be noted.

The Amon-Ra Club, group of girls from School No. 4, are planning for a picnic supper at the "V" at their next meeting. Afterward there will be an hour of games. Mrs. Raymond Rignall is advisor of this club.

The Kingston unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau has as the speaker for the meeting next Thursday afternoon, Miss Margaret Morehouse, expert on clothing from the department of Home Economics at Cornell University. Miss Morehouse has chosen as her topic, "Pepping Up the Spring Wardrobe," the presentation to be lecture, discussion and demonstration. Since this subject is of such wide interest to the women of this city, the club has decided to hold the meeting at the Y. W. C. A. at 1:30 o'clock and all wishing to do so are invited to attend. The Kingston unit will be joined at this meeting by the Home Bureau Clubs from Lomontville, Flatbush, Kingston, Shandaken, High Falls, Lake Katrine, Riverside Park, Asbury, Stone Ridge and Shandaken.

Mrs. Alfred D. Van Buren of New Rochelle has been spending some time with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Van Buren, Jr., of Washington avenue.

"Fox O' My Heart," that ever popular three-act comedy, is to be presented Saturday evening, March 16, at 8 o'clock at the Shandaken Town Hall at Shandaken, N. Y. This St. Patrick's eve entertainment is being held for the benefit of St. Francis de Sales Parish at Phoenixia.

The play is being presented by the St. Patrick Players of Albany under the personal direction of the Rev. Edwin P. Donovan with the following cast: Mrs. Chichester, Elizabeth Allen; Jarris, the butler, Nelson J. Murray; Alarie, Mrs. Chichester's son, Charles Stuart; Ethel, Mrs. Chichester's daughter, Florence Schader; Chris Brent, James McGrath; Fox, Geraldine Brumfield; Montgomery Hawker, soldier, William Gilligan; Maid, Mary Hull, and Jerry W. Eugene Miller. Few plays have enjoyed the popularity of "Fox O' My Heart," which has been translated into French, Dutch, Spanish, Italian and other languages, and in the United States, Great Britain and Canada alone has had more than 1,000 performances. Besides this play has been given in the Union of South Africa, India, Australia, New Zealand, the Scandinavian countries and the Orient. The role of "Fox" has become a classic in American dramatics of the theatre and stage, having been created and interpreted by Eugene Taylor. The play is derived from a novel of the same name by J. Hartley Manners. After the play there will be dancing with music by the Pease Orchestra of Delhi.

Mrs. Clarence O. Fromer spent last weekend at the Hotel St. Moritz, 59th street, New York city, where she was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John Hastings Cutler and Miss Marion Cutler of Charlotte, N. C. On Monday Mrs. Cutler and her daughter returned to Kingston where they were the house guests of Mrs. Fromer and her husband until Wednesday of this week.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Rodie of Albany avenue entertained at a dinner at their home, 83 Albany avenue.

Last Sunday evening Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bibby entertained a small supper party at their home, 286 Fair street.

Miss Cyrilla Carter of this city was among the many guests of this city attending the mid-winter hop at New York Military Academy at Cornwall last weekend.

Arrangements are nearly completed for the St. Patrick's subscription dance which is held annually at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The dance will be held St. Patrick's eve, March 16. Those arranging for the dance are Mrs. Parker Brinley, Mrs. Robert Gross, Mrs. Joseph Garland, Mrs. Raymond E. Craft, Mrs. Walter Elston and Mrs. Louise Kegler. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Level Orchestra of Woodstock. This dance is always one of the very nice social affairs of the late winter season.

Next Friday night, De Molay, Junior Masonic order, will hold a St. Patrick's dance at the Y. W. C. A. Paul Zucca's orchestra will play for dancing from 9 until 1 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. The committee arranging for this dance are Bob Chambers, chairman, Frank Schilling, Fred Buchanan and Ward Brigham.

It is with delight that the many Kingstonians who have come to look upon the Mendelssohn concert as one of the very fine musical treats of the year, learn that Friday, March 22, has been set as the date for the concert marking the 22nd season of this organization. The concert will be held as usual, at the high school auditorium. Elmer Tidmarsh will conduct the group of singers.

In 1903 a group of interested music lovers banded together for group singing and the further study of music, calling themselves the Mendelssohn Club. From that time until the present this organization has devoted itself to maintaining high musical standards and interesting younger singers in continuing their singing. Each year their work has been climaxed by a concert in which the singers have always generously invited their friends. Only four of the original charter members, Arthur S. Connelly, Christopher Lohman, Dr. Ambrose L. Hill and Elmer Burger now take an active part in the affair of the club. The officers of the club who are arranging this 1935 concert are president, Vernon Miller; vice president, N. L. Van Haver; secretary, Everett Scott, and treasurer, Charles Terwilliger.

For the concert the club will hold its annual supper dance at the Governor Clinton Hotel, arrangements for which are being made by Henry Wieber and Lester Elmendorf. The soloist of the evening with Director Tidmarsh and Mrs. Tidmarsh will be the guests of honor.

An open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs of the city will be held on Saturday afternoon, March 16, in the parlors of the Fair Street Reformed Church. Sorosis Club has arranged a program of Russian music. In the absence of Mrs. Fred Luther, president, the vice president, Mrs. Frederick Snyder, will preside.

The regular meeting of the Women's Republican Club will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Modern Hall, Grand street. A full attendance of members is requested as a number of important questions will be discussed. John Melville, sanitary inspector, will talk concerning various phases of his work.

The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 6 announces a meeting especially prepared to attract the interest of fathers, to be held at the school on Tuesday evening, March 12, 1935, at 7:30 o'clock. For this occasion an attractive program has been prepared with Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman as the guest speaker whose subject is "Civic Life of Kingston."

The efforts of this organization are directed toward closer understanding between parent and teacher in their endeavors to improve and impress the child through school and home work. Through resources at its command this association has also been able to relieve many cases of distress affecting such children as the same advantages as those more fortunate.

These worthy objects have been carried on almost exclusively by the mothers, however, as fathers are parents as well as mothers the interest and assistance of fathers is sought. Every father is most cordially invited and earnestly urged to attend this meeting.

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church is arranging for a St. Patrick's dance to be held Monday evening, March 18, at St. Mary's School Hall. There will be an hour of clever entertainment by the O'Reilly twins, tap dancers, piano accordion solo by Ted McCormick, all the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and the crew of Irish songs by Frank Fitz. Their vocal and numbers by the pupils of the dancing schools of Mrs. Emily McCormick, Mrs. Helen Cashin Davis. The entertainment will begin at 9 o'clock. There will be two orchestras, that of Ted McCormick, piano and Elmer's Old Fashioned orchestra playing for the eastern dances. The members of the Hall are the guests of the Bishop of Honolulu for a week, during which time the new pastor was invited to preach at the Cathedral of Honolulu. This cathedral was built by Queen Emma of Hawaii, who upon her visit to England to attend Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee became an interested member of the Church of England there again.

Clarence E. Hullman, M. D., medical missionary to China, who addressed the members of the Fair church, Mrs. Hann is a daughter of Mrs. Roger H. Loughran of Hurley, where they spent the day.

Paul Le May, who will be remembered by those who attend the summer concerts at the Maverick, was the conductor of the Minnesota Symphony Orchestra this past Saturday. The table will be decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's day. The guests will be Miss Mary Adeline Summers, Miss Betty Neal, Miss Helen La Feve, Harold Fisher, Howard Crandall and Arthur London.

Miss Mary Chidester of Saugerties, daughter of Dr. Hugh Chidester of that village, is recuperating at the Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. Julia Searing Leacycraft of Woodstock left this week for New York city where she will spend several weeks with her daughter, Miss Anne Leacycraft, who is studying in the schools.

The March meeting of the Federated Council of the Parent-Teacher Association was held at the Kingston High School Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Joseph Craig presided and announced that the Parent Education Group would meet at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Friday, March 15, with Dr. Andrews as leader. Mrs. W. R. Anderson then gave a very interesting talk on publicity. The following important announcements were made:

Buffalo Council broadcasts Fridays 1:45 to 2 p.m. National broadcasts for March: March 14, "Curiosity and the Growth of Interests"; George D. Stoddard, director Iowa Child Welfare Research station, University of Iowa, March 21, "Vacations and How to Use Them"; Harry D. Gillett, principal elementary school, University of Chicago, March 28, "Emotional Conflicts, Their Origin, Prevention and Treatment"; by Randall Sherman, associate professor educational psychology, University of Chicago.

Plans are rapidly being completed for the thirty-ninth annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held in Miami, Fla., April 29 to May 3. The theme will be "Home, the Index to National Life." The convention program will be built around this theme. All afternoon meetings will close at 3:30 leaving plenty of time for rest and sightseeing before the evening session. Tea will be served informally out of doors from 4 to 6 each afternoon. On Sunday evening, at a dinner in their honor, tribute will be paid to honorary officers and past presidents of the National Congress.

Preceding the dinner a tree will be planted in honor of Mrs. Frederick Schaff, second national president. The keynote of the banquet will be "The Congress Through the Looking Glass." Characters from Alice Through the Looking Glass will be presented by Parent-Teacher leaders.

Plans and committees have been announced for the song fest to be presented by the musical clubs of the Hudson Valley at the Municipal Auditorium on Friday evening, May 10. At this time the clubs from Troy, Catskill, Saugerties, Port Jervis, Middletown, Newburgh, Schenectady and two clubs from Poughkeepsie and the Mendelssohn Club of Kingston will unite for a great festival of singing. The grand chorus will number between 350 and 400 voices. The program will be arranged in four parts each part under a different director. The directors for the evening will be Elmer Tidmarsh of Schenectady, Robert Williams of Newburgh, Professor Baird of Middletown, and Roland Heerman of Saugerties. There will be a soloist. Following the concert a dance will be held for all those who attend the singing. The committee arranging the affair are Arthur Connolly, general chairman, assisted by Barnard Joy, publicity; Charles R. O'Connor, tickets; Henry Wieber, entertainment: artists and conductors, Harold Brigham; auditorium, Henry Darow; reception, the Rev. Ernest C. Brown, and organization, Everett Scott.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter N. Thayer of Elmira left for home today after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Down on Pine Grove avenue. Mrs. Smith had been in attendance at the Eastern Regional Y. W. C. A. conference in Troy.

Hamilton Boyd, Jr., a member of Woodstock are in New York city today where they see their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoonmaker, sail for a two month's visit to Paris.

An error in the reporting of an item last week stated that the Rev. Robert J. Renison was Bishop of Toronto, Canada. The Rev. Mr. Renison, who for several years was Bishop of Caledonia and still holds that title, is now rector of St. Paul's Church, Brook street, Toronto, Canada. Bishop Renison was the guest of his brother, William T. Renison, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Saugerties.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard N. Smith of Elmira left for home today after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Down on Pine Grove avenue. Mrs. Smith had been in attendance at the Eastern Regional Y. W. C. A. conference in Troy.

BARBARA BELL FASHION PATTERNS

Pattern No. 1409-B

Practical Housedress
With Smart Lines

For one of your housedresses you could find no better design than the practical frock shown in the sketch. Like all cotton wash frocks the lines are managed in a way that makes for the easiest kind of laundry work. The back is cut in two pieces, and the front in three. Darts give the waistline a trim fit, and insure ease over the bustline. The lower skirt is two gores, slightly flared.

Collars and cuffs are a favorite decoration on this season's frocks. The ones featured here are of sheer organdie trimmed with straight rows of rick-rack. A different color for each row is a popular way of using this attractive trimming, or one solid color matching the motif in the print may be used.

Wash materials have never been lovelier than this year. Many colored effects are popular, and so are prints limited to two colors, as in this dress which is navy and white with navy rick-rack and buttons, and collar and cuffs of white.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1409-B is designed in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Sizes 36 requires 3 1/4 yards of 36 inch material (short sleeves, as sketched). Long sleeves 4 1/4 yards of 36 inch, 3 1/4 yards of rick-rack.

Monday: Chic frock for matron.

Here's a lovely cotton dress, designed as smartly and becomingly as an afternoon dress. Incidentally, the slanting line of the bodice gives a very slenderizing effect. It would be attractive, too, with long sleeves in a crepe silk print for town wear.

Style No. 2993 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48-inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 3/4 inch contrasting.

Children's apparel of past seasons despite. Three ruffles form the cap shoulders, the bodice is fitted and a pale green grosgrain ribbon such as St. Mark.

Flounces being the last word in grown-up fashions, we find a deep flounce used on this model. This party dress will also make an adorable little girl's "flower girl" dress for a wedding.

The seated figure shows a new school frock of medium sheen in a brown and orange floral pattern. Double collar trim the neckline, the brown one piped with orange and the white one piped with brown.

Brown binding edges the short cap sleeve and the full puffed pockets.

Giving the hem a longer working day through the use of artificial light has long been a system of increasing egg production. The idea was that hens eat more feed and as a result produced more eggs. Professor L. C.

practice. Rather, the artificial light stimulates the reproductive organs, which in turn results in increased egg production. More feed,

PATTERN 3408

This graceful basket of flowers offers you the opportunity of using color very effectively with little work. The flowers in the basket are all formed of one patch; you can get variety in their coloring by using different colors in the embroidery that is done on the patch. Can't you imagine how it will look with the patch in yellow or peach—another flower embroidered in brown—another in light yellow—another in orange; leaves embroidered in green setting off the colors? The basket could be brown or green. The motifs lend themselves to heraldic, scroll, pillows and other decorative items.

In pattern 3408 you will find a transfer pattern of two baskets 7 1/2 inches square, four squares 5 x 5 1/2 inches and two sprays 2 1/2 x 2 inches.

To obtain this pattern send 14 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 238 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

Where and When Disasters Occur
And Types Which Hit Most Often

A Decade's Records of Red Cross Answer Vital Queries on Hazards of Storm, Flood and Fire.

WHAT months of the year present the greatest hazard to Americans through disaster?

What types of disaster are most prevalent?

Are some types of catastrophe peculiar to certain sections of our country?

For the first time, a scientific answer to these queries can be given. Based on records of the American Red Cross relief work in 521 disasters in a period of ten years ending June 30, 1932, many interesting facts have come to light.

The month of May with 124 disasters in 1932 ranked first as the month in which the greatest number of disasters occurred. The months of March, April, May and June showed each year the greatest prevalence, and are therefore the season during which the Red Cross anticipates the greatest number of calls for relief.

Hurricanes, tornados and windstorms are the types of catastrophes which occur most often. The second most often in 1932 numbered 106, and 104 fires ranked third in the ten year period while disasters numbered 98, forest fires, air explosions, and earthquakes, 20, and earthquakes, 2.

Tornadoes and windstorms occurred

most often in May in the west central land group, New York, Delaware, Idaho, states; floods occurred most often in New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, March in central and Atlantic states; fires occurred most often in January, and predominated in middle Atlantic and New England States.

The central and Atlantic states suffered the greatest number of disasters—chiefly tornados, windstorms and floods—and accounted for 72 per cent of all disasters during the ten year period.

The statistics are based on major disasters in which there was loss of life, property damage and to which the Red Cross gave relief to families.

District Attorney Has Valuable Book

New York, March 9 (P)—The district attorney's office, plunging into the mysteries of the vice and policy rackets in New York, has a new guide, a book containing the names of 200 men supposed to be the widely hunted "higher ups" of the vice ring.

This book, which District Attorney William C. Dodge, locked in his safe last night, was sold at his office to name owners, financiers, lawyers, bondsmen and procurers of the notorious Polly Adler, now a disorderly house and possessing obscene motion pictures. She and the three young women arrested with her were to have been questioned yesterday at the district attorney's office, but failed to show up.

Magistrate Anna M. Kross, who has demanded abolition of the women's courts among other reforms, meanwhile called the drive against vice "silly."

"I've known it for 20 years," she said. "And it's the same old racket. Only this year it shows a change of complexion and some new faces. During the depression they were emaciated. This week brought in some mink coats and some executives."

"If we turned out the 18,000 police we wouldn't get them all."

Samuel Marcus, special assistant district attorney, who is directing the inquiry, was ordered by his doctor to rest today and tomorrow.

"Numbers game" players took notice of his investigation of that racket yesterday by heavily playing the number of his newly assigned office, 261.

Miss March was 73 years old. She died at her home in this city, where she had and still has many admiring friends, for Miss March was possessed of an especially fine Christian character and indomitable courage, in that she continued lecturing after she had become almost totally deaf.

So alert was she that for many years few of her audiences knew of her deafness, and she was always cheerful, gracious and helpful, in fact a very remarkable woman.

Her older friends in Kingston will recall that she was a granddaughter of the late Judge John Van Buren of Kingston, N. Y., a descendant of Martin Van Buren, eighth president of the United States.

Miss March was 73 years old. She died at her home in this city. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Ascension, Fifth Avenue and 10th Street, New York, and the burial will take place in Willowick Cemetery, this city, on arrival of the 1:45 p. m. West Shore train on Monday.

Max Schmeling, With Eye On Title, Is 5-1 Favorite Over Steve Hamas

By Gayle Talbot.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Hamburg, March 9 (AP)—Since all is not beer and skittles, Max Schmeling is a 5 to 1 favorite to whip young Steve Hamas in their ten-round bout tomorrow.

The odds reflect German opinion that the former Penn State football star has trained in far too lackadaisical fashion to meet the deadly serious Schmeling on even terms.

Steve not only has shocked German boxing critics by taking his glass of beer when he wanted it, he has astonished them with his trips to the theatre and opera house.

Whether or not his condition actually has suffered thereby is open to question. Neither he nor his manager, walrus-mustached Charley Harvey, has shown any lack of confidence in the American's ability to score his second victory over the former world's champion.

Schmeling, supremely confident that he eventually will regain the title he lost to Max Baer, has come through a long, hard training campaign in top form. He knows he must win this bout decisively if he is to bounce back into the heavyweight championship situation.

Though Hamas punched out a decision over the German in their first meeting in New York, the vast majority of the 25,000 fans who will see the fight apparently are convinced Schmeling will win.

The odds, incidentally, do not seem to portray the true picture. Hamas, despite his unorthodox manner of training, has been impressive in his boxing drills. He has belabored an assortment of sparring mates with straight rights and a left hook that has done heavy damage.

In the new arena, where the fight will be held, the backrow spectators will have a tough time trying to see what's going on. They'll be 250 feet from the ring and the dirt floor is absolutely flat. There is no heating plant in the big barnlike structure.

The arena seats 24,000 and there will be standing room for 1,000 more. The main bout will go on about 5 p. m. (noon, Eastern Standard time).

Latest News from The Baseball Front

By The Associated Press

Lakeland, Fla.—"Dixie" Howell, the University of Alabama's baseball and football star, started working out with the Detroit Tigers today.

"So far as I am concerned these fellows are the boys who wrote the book about baseball," he said.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—The Yankees seem to be well fortified with third-base candidates this season. In addition to Myril Hoag, who has been experimentally converted from an "outfielder" to an infielder there are Red Rolfe, who finished last season at third and Jack Saltzgaver, who occupied the corner part of last year.

Orlando, Fla.—Sam Leslie, who led the Brooklyn sluggers last season with a .322 average, is trying out a different hitting style this spring. Instead of using a short swing and pushing his hits toward left field, Sam has decided to try to pull his wallop toward the shorter right field.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Travis Jackson, who'll shift to third base for the

New York Giants this year, is chortling with glee over the trade that brought Shortstop Dick Bartell to the club.

"Boy, my old legs are going to get plenty of rest this year," he yells when he sees Bartell roaming far and wide for pop flies in left field.

Sarasota, Fla.—After watching

Ellsworth "Babe" Dahlgren, up from the San Francisco Missions, do his stuff about first base, Manager Joe

Cronin of the Boston Red Sox has worried about that position.

Cronin and Dahlgren are residents of San Francisco and all winter the Red Sox pilot has been hearing that

"the Babe" is the "best first-sacker

since the peerless Hal Chase." Now

he is beginning to believe it.
